Management Discussion of Fund Performance

June 26, 2023

This management discussion of Starlight Global Balanced Fund (formerly Stone Global Balanced Fund) (the "Fund") performance presents the views of the portfolio management team at Stone Asset Management Limited ("SAM" or the "Manager"). On July 7, 2022, Starlight Investment Capital LP ("Starlight Capital") through a wholly owned subsidiary, acquired all issued and outstanding common shares of SAM's parent company, Stone Investment Group Limited. On June 21, 2023, Starlight Capital was assigned management and portfolio management duties of the Fund and was appointed trustee of the Fund.

The following management discussion is about the significant factors and developments affecting the Fund's performance for the period from January 1, 2022 to March 31, 2023 (the "Period"). On January 27, 2023, the fiscal year-end of the Fund was changed to March 31 from December 31. In this report, "we", "us" and "our" refer to the Manager and Transactional Net Asset Value ("NAV") is calculated in accordance with National Instrument 81-106 – Investment Fund Continuous Disclosure.

Please read the caution regarding forward-looking information located at the end of the document.

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide investors access to a global balanced fund seeking capital appreciation and a steady stream of current income.

The Fund will generally invest approximately 60% of its assets in equity securities and 40% of its assets in fixed income securities, which weightings may vary from time to time.

The equity portion of the Fund's assets will be allocated amongst the following three segments to achieve a diversified portfolio of common stocks:

- total-return stocks that seek to deliver a combination of capital appreciation and dividend income that trade on stock exchanges in North America.
- total-return stocks that seek to deliver a combination of capital appreciation and dividend income that trade on primary stock exchanges worldwide.
- growth-oriented stocks that primarily seek to deliver capital appreciation that trade on primary stock exchanges worldwide.

The fixed income segment will be invested in a diversified portfolio of sovereign debt securities and corporate obligations, which may include convertible securities. The fixed income portfolio will have the flexibility to allocate between developed markets in North American, European, Pacific and Emerging Market fixed-income securities.

Risk

The overall long-term risk of the Fund is as described in the most recent simplified prospectus. No material changes occurred that would significantly increase the risk associated with an investment in the Fund during the period.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Macroeconomic Update

During the Period global market and sector specific market declines resulted in decreases in the Fund's investments and the Fund's NAV.

Financial conditions globally are tightening as the European Central Bank and the Bank of Canada are tapering bond purchases and the Federal Reserve Bank is set to join them. With few exceptions, most central banks continue to raise rates to combat domestic inflation.

Global growth remains above the long-term average for 2022 and 2023. However, the absolute level of growth is declining as we move beyond comparisons to the pandemic lows and fiscal stimulus rolls off. Several impediments to global growth have emerged that are contributing to the slow-down. Wage inflation has returned with lightly-skilled workers now having significant negotiating leverage. We expect the combination of wage and commodity inflation, rising borrowing costs and supply chain challenges to put pressure on corporate margins and earnings. Economic output will continue to expand however, the rate of this growth will mean reverting back to the long-term average.

Market Overview and Impact on the Fund

Markets bounced higher in 2023 after a difficult 2022 year. There was no shortage of bad news from inflation, aggressive interest rate increases, China's lockdown policy, supply chain challenges, the Russia-Ukraine war and slowing corporate profits.

Stubborn inflation has caused central banks to continue raising interest rates and these higher rates have caused their first line of casualties. Some banks had mismatched their liquidity needs and were forced to take sizable losses. Silicon Valley Bank was one of the banks that took in a sizable number of deposits and invested them in longer term held-to-maturity (HTM) assets. When clients requested their deposits back, the bank was forced to sell those HTM assets at significant losses. Since interest rates have spiked over the past year, the value of the HTM assets declined in value causing the bank to take a capital loss on its balance sheet. The U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Committee was forced to step in and save the bank. Signature Bank also suffered the same fate. The aftershocks of these two significant banking failures have reverberated to other banks and areas of the markets. Other banks have since been under severe stress and forced to merge (in the case of Credit Suisse and UBS Bank) or fail.

Real estate is another casualty of higher interest rates. The stability of commercial real estate has come into question as vacancy rates for office property nears the highs reached during the global financial crisis. Operating fundamentals across other real estate sectors continue to do well. Industrial and residential real estate are very stable with expectations for continued rental growth.

Central bankers continue to battle stubbornly high inflation. Core prices of inflation continue to be over 5% (CPI at 5.3% in Canada and 5.9% in the U.S.) and this lines up the Federal Reserve to continue hiking rates. The disastrous banking sector developments had temporarily put future interest rate increases on hold, but the continued higher inflation data put them back on track to raising rates.

During the Period equity markets continued to gain, after recovering most if not all of the losses incurred in the COVID-19 related bear market earlier in the calendar year of 2020.

Falling inflation and slowing Federal Reserve Bank rate hikes saw 10-year bond yields in the US fall from 3.9% to start the year to 3.7%. On the back of higher and faster rate hikes, the two-year bond yield rose to 4.7% from 4.4% at the start of the year. Despite the Bank of Canada's earlier pause in rate hikes, the Canadian yield curve experienced similar behaviour. The Canadian 10-year bond yield was flat at 3.4% while the two-year bond yield rose to 4.7% from 4.1% to start the year. In response to fast and significant rate hikes, both markets appear to be pricing in a higher likelihood of recession.

Performance

The Fund generated strong absolute and relative performance in 2023, outperforming the benchmark. The collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) and fears of a US banking crisis dominated financial markets in March. The Manager maintained a zero-weight exposure to banks, having sold all banking positions in 2022. The combined underweights in Energy and Financials contributed significantly to the Fund's outperformance.

Growth strategies have started to outperform as economic and earnings growth become harder to find. 'Value' strategies have underperformed this year, most notably in the US, not because of valuations, but perhaps due to positioning and 'risk-off' sentiment as the risk of recession rises.

The best performing position in the Fund was top-flight graphics processor Nvidia. The Manager believed that 2022's drawdown was too great and the euphoria this year around its mission-critical role in AI is probably overhyped as well. The Manager has trimmed the position several times over recent weeks despite believing it offers a powerful long-term investment case. Its industry-leading graphics processing units (GPUs) have redefined modern computer graphics, particularly in gaming, but they're also now powering the next era of computing with GPUs acting as the 'brain' of computers, robots and self-driving cars.

The worst performer this quarter was brokerage and financial services giant Charles Schwab. It's been caught up in the wider downdraft in Financials, as investors have looked for any institutions that hold customer cash and, in turn, might face deposit flight risk. Importantly, while this may hurt sentiment and precipitate a short-term earning downgrade for Charles Schwab due to lower interest returns from its client cash accounts, its brand and net new asset growth look well supported. Some customers are (hardly surprisingly) moving some of their cash, looking for better rates in money market funds. But crucially, these assets are staying in the Schwab eco-system thanks to the quality and breadth of the products it offers. That breadth, alongside ongoing improvements in technology, is why it's managed to deliver net new asset growth of 5-7% over the last five years, with group assets under management now totalling some $7.4 trillion. It still has only a c.10% share of the total retail market and with household assets helpfully having doubled since 2010, further cost savings and revenues synergies from its recent acquisition of online broker TD Ameritrade to come, then 10x next year's expected profits for the market-leading investment platform doesn't look expensive and provides balance to some of our more highly rated growth investments.

Portfolio Outlook

At March 31, 2023, the Fund held 43 positions. As the global economy experiences inflationary pressure and a weakening growth outlook, the Manager has focused on sectors with the greater capacity to pass through rising input costs to customers.

Annual Management Report of Fund Performance
For the Period ended March 31, 2023

We use our proprietary investment process daily and in volatile market conditions, we seek to manage downside risk and adjust the portfolios accordingly while seeking to achieve our long-term investment goals for our clients.

The portfolio's weighting in select global sectors has been adjusted to reflect the reality of global equity markets after COVID-19.

The Technology sector continues to be a key sector for the Fund. The drive to automation, cloud computing and artificial intelligence continues to warrant a large weighting in the Technology sector. The proliferation of data and our need to access it from anywhere has resulted in strong growth for the tech sector. Technology companies have largely benefited from the structural shift to hybrid office work, as traditional in-person interactions have been replaced with digital interactions. In the last two years, more data has been generated than in the entirety of human history before that and the trend continues to accelerate. The increased demand for digital storage capacity, access and communication has driven utilization rates higher and pulled corporate expansion plans forward, driving strong performance of technology companies.

Health Care is also a big theme for the Fund. Long-term secular themes of aging populations and U.S. health care system reforms merit continued exposure to the Health Care sector, including health care providers and prescription drug manufacturers. The Fund continued to hold no positions in the cannabis sub-sector of Health Care.

The industrial weighting is positioned defensively while also capitalizing on the post-COVID resumption of travel. While rail and cargo logistics have experienced near-term headwinds due to a weakening growth outlook, we continue to be optimistic about their long-term outlooks as consumers have adopted e-commerce at a faster pace. The industrial weighting remains overweight to more resilient industrial subsectors such as waste collection, aerospace & defense, and electrical components and equipment.

The energy weighting of the portfolio continues to be low. The Fund has its energy exposure in the more stable fully integrated oil majors rather than the volatile exploration and production companies. Although valuations have adjusted to account for the weakened near-term growth outlook, the uncertainty associated with the shifting energy production mix has caused the Manager to remain cautious on the sector. With recent permitting of new pipelines adding to capacity and increased investment in renewable power generation, the Manager is cautious about the possibility that transport capacity more than demand for hydrocarbons will erode pricing power in the medium-term. Within the energy complex, our focus remains on large, integrated energy companies which help limit exposure to volatile commodity prices.

The Manager continues to hold a basket of Financials with limited exposure to the U.S. financial sector. Canadian banks and life insurance companies are stable, from a regulatory and capital perspective, compared to the volatility in the global financial industry. Banks are stable and well-established institutions and they have a long tradition of paying excellent dividends. Banks are also able to benefit from higher interest rates as their net interest margins can get a boost. Financials are a barometer of the overall economic health and the Manager believe that improving economic conditions will result in capital appreciation for banks and financials. The manager believes that adding non-bank financials is an excellent way to diversify the financials exposure, without directly taking on banking risk.

The allocation to the consumer sector is more on the stable side with companies that have strong brand names and can pass on cost increases to the end consumer. These companies produce essential products that consumers need, regardless of economic conditions. Therefore, these companies tend to be more resilient and less volatile compared to stocks in other sectors. Their defensive characteristics, coupled with consistent growth profiles, are an ideal investment for the Fund.

Overall, the Manager believes the Fund is well protected from near-term economic uncertainty while built-in optionality provides an opportunity to participate in an economic recovery. The Manager will closely monitor the investment environment and actively manage the Fund's positioning.

Recent Developments

On June 16, 2023, the Manager re-designated Series BB units as Series AA units, Series L units as Series AA units and Series T8C units as Series T8A.

On June 21, 2023, the manager and trustee of the Fund was changed to Starlight Capital. The Fund's name was also changed to Starlight Global Balanced Fund and Series O units were renamed Series I units.

Explanatory Notes:

² MER for each series is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), including the pro-rata share of expenses of any underlying Stone Funds, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the period.

⁴ The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.

Past Performance

Returns are calculated using the NAV per unit and assume that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown, if any, are reinvested in additional units of the same series of the Fund. Returns do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges, or income taxes payable by an investor, which would have reduced returns for an individual investor. Past performance may not be indicative of future returns.

Returns for each series may differ primarily due to differences in management fees, Operating Fees and expenses allocated to each series. See Series Information for the management fees and see Financial Highlights for the MER for each series of the Fund.

Year-by-year returns

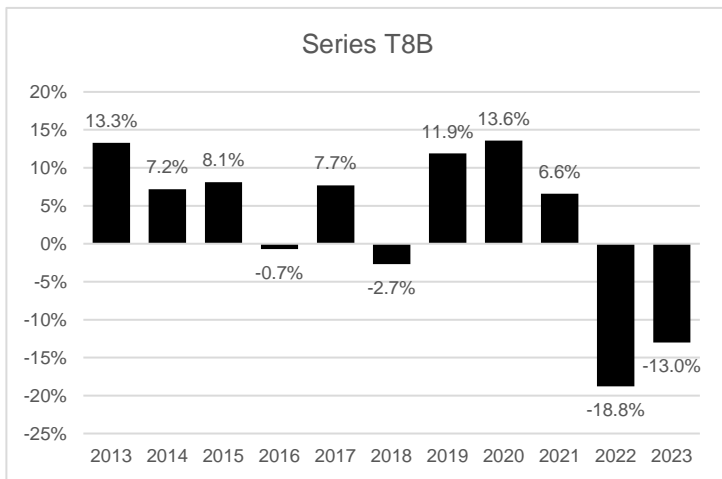

The following charts present the Fund's performance for each of the periods shown and illustrate how the Fund's performance changed from year to year. The charts show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each fiscal period, or the series inception date, as applicable, would have increased or decreased by the last day of each fiscal period presented, and assumes reinvestment of distributions, if any, at NAV on the day the distributions were paid. See Series Information for the inception date of each series. Returns are not disclosed for series of the Fund that have been in existence for less than one year.

This table shows the annual compound return of each series of units of the Fund for each indicated period ended on March 31, 2023. The annual compound total return is also compared to the Fund's benchmark. A benchmark is usually an index or a composite of more than one index.
